About URPE

The Union for Radical Political Economics (URPE) is an interdisciplinary association devoted to the study, development and application of radical political economic analysis to social problems.

Founded in 1968, URPE presents a continuing critique of the capitalist system and all forms of exploitation and oppression while helping to construct a progressive social policy and create socialist alternatives.

URPE members, often in cooperation with other organizations, organize local study groups, speaking and writing projects, and political events. URPE's international members in Latin America are involved in discussions, visits, and exchanges.

Union for Radical Political Economics

URPE is a membership organization of thinkers and doers. We are a unique mixture of the theoretical and the practical, the academic and the activist.

We are an international, interdisciplinary association. Our members come from a wide range of theoretical traditions and political activities. We provide a supportive environment for students, teachers and practitioners of radical political economics.

*"If there is no struggle, there is no progress."
— Frederick Douglass*

We don't just pontificate, we act.

We break through the illusions created by traditional economists to expose the injustice and inhumanity inherent in the current economic system. We provide a radical analysis of political and economic events. Armed with this knowledge, we join in the fight for social justice and the construction of social, political, and economic alternatives.

URPE believes that a combination of activists equipped with solid facts and sound theoretical tools and intellectuals who use their skills to address the needs of those activists will have a profound impact on the struggle for an equitable world.

JOIN URPE to deepen your understanding of today's most pressing issues.

JOIN URPE to participate in the transformation of vision into reality.

*"Philosophers have merely interpreted the world; the point is to change it."
— Karl Marx*

URPE ACTIVITIES

Review of Radical Political Economics

The RRPE is a quarterly journal that publishes articles on radical political economics, coordinated by an elected editorial board and an editor. The Review presents articles on radical political economic theory and applied analysis from a wide variety of theoretical traditions — including Marxian, institutional, post-Keynesian and feminist.

Submissions of journal articles for review are welcome. If you are interested in submitting an article, please contact: Hazel Dayton Gunn, Managing Editor, Dept. of City and Regional Planning, 106 W. Sibley Hall, Cornell University, Ithaca, NY 14853
Tel: (607) 266-8114 Email: hg18@cornell.edu

URPE Newsletter

The URPE Newsletter is a quarterly publication with news of the organization, short articles, reports on members' political activities, debates between URPE members, and news of events and conferences. If you or your organization want to announce an event in the Newsletter, please contact the URPE National Office.

URPE Summer Conference

The URPE Summer Conference is a unique 3-4 day conference that has traditionally been held on the East Coast of the United States at a camp or campus. The objective of the conference is to provide a relaxed, family-friendly space in which to share ideas and to showcase activism on issues that affect our economic lives. Academics, activists, and just plain folks are invited to attend and to present their work and their ideas in workshop format. If you are interested in attending or presenting, the URPE National Office will be able to give you up-to-date application forms.

URPE at ASSA

URPE at ASSA is a group of URPE-organized sessions within the annual January meetings of the Allied Social Science Associations (commonly known as the American Economic Association meeting). Participants tend to be academics and policy makers who present the latest research in radical political economy and highlight controversial economic issues of the day.

The URPE presence at the ASSA meetings was established in the late 1960s when radical political economists protested at the business meeting of the Association and demanded that a place be made for heterodox economics.

For more information on deadlines, presenting a paper, or participating as a discussant, please contact: Robin Hahnel, URPE at ASSA coordinator, Dept. of Economics, American University, Roper Hall 200, 4400 Massachusetts Ave., NW, Washington, DC 20016-8029
Tel: (202) 885-2712
Email: rhahnel@american.edu

URPE at the Easterns

URPE at the Eastern Economic Association (EEA) meetings is a small group of URPE-organized sessions within the annual spring meetings of the EEA. For more information, please contact the URPE National Office.

Economy Connection

Economy Connection, URPE's speaker/resource bureau, puts people who are knowledgeable in various areas of the economy in touch with people who want this information to further their political activities. If your group is planning a meeting, demonstration, or educational event; if you are a student or teacher and want your class to hear another point of view; or if you need background information for a campaign or research project, call Economy Connection for a speaker or for someone to discuss economic questions informally. Call us at (201) 792-7459 or email soapbox@comcast.net.
